

SCOPE

The Specific Interdisciplinary Panel evaluates interdisciplinary research proposals.

To do so, the panel uses the following functional definition of interdisciplinarity:

- » There is more than one discipline involved and these disciplines are sufficiently distinct.
- » The disciplines are at the same coordinated level; each discipline is essential to achieve the expected outcome.
- » The use of different, sufficiently integrated disciplines leads to synergy. Due to this synergy, the state of the art is advanced in all involved disciplines and/or in a shared area.
